

Work with a REALTOR[®] with an FRI

REALTORS[®] with the FRI designation are dedicated experts who have completed a rigorous education program, have years of related real estate industry experience, and adhere to a strict Code of Professional Standards. They know how to maximize your return.

Advanced Credentials

Experienced

Ethical

The Fellow of the Real Estate Institute (FRI) designation is Canada's most senior credential for real estate professionals and is granted by the Real Estate Institute of Canada.

An FRI maximizes your return

With specialized education and expertise on the ever changing real estate market, you can count on an FRI to negotiate the right price for you to maximize your return.

An FRI protects your best interest

Given the many complexities of a contract, you can count on an FRI to provide the best information and advice on your real estate transaction and protect your interests.

An FRI understands the market

An FRI is current with the real estate market and can provide the most up to date information and industry trends when it comes to your real estate sale or purchase.

An FRI is professional

A REALTOR[®] with an FRI operates to a high standard of business practice and ethics, making your real estate experience seamless.
